Before retiring in March 2018, Bruce Krushelnicki was the Executive Chair of the Environment and Land Tribunals Ontario (ELTO), a cluster of five tribunals (as of April 2018, six tribunals) providing adjudicative and mediation services in land use, environmental, property valuation for taxation and expropriation, and mining disputes throughout Ontario. The cluster includes the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal (LPAT) created to replace the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB).

Join us for a lively discussion on OMB reform, a summary review of some of the major changes in jurisdiction, procedure and adjudicative practice. As well, Mr. Krushelnicki will explore the impacts on major stakeholders - planners, other land use experts, land owners and developers, residents' associations and public interest groups - and the public in general.
